Our examination was conducted in accordance with attestation standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Those standards require that we plan and perform the examination to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Regulating District complied, in all material respects, with the specified requirements referenced above. An examination involves performing procedures to obtain evidence about whether the Regulating District complied with the specified requirements. The nature, timing, and extent of the procedures selected depend on our judgment, including an assessment of the risks of material noncompliance, whether due to fraud or error. We believe that the evidence we obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

We are required to be independent and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with relevant ethical requirements relating to the examination engagement.

Our examination does not provide a legal determination on the Regulating District's compliance with specified requirements.

In our opinion, the Regulating District complied, in all material respects, with the forementioned requirements described in the first paragraph as of and for the year ended June 30, 2022.
